SUMMARY

Pogranichnyy Army Barracks Orenburgskoye is located immediately southwest of Barano-Orenburgskoye and 7 kilometers (km) southeast of Pogranichnyy (Figure 1).

The installation and a related training area, located 4 km south of the barracks area, cover approximately 870 acres and contain 3 administration buildings, an administration/support building, 8 barracks, 17 storage buildings, 4 storage/vehicle sheds, 34 support buildings, an open storage area, 2 athletic fields, a possible small-arms firing range, a tank/assault-gun firing range, and a tracked/wheeled-vehicle driver-training circuit. A probably related probable POL storage area contains 5 probable POL tanks and 7 support buildings (Figures 2 and 3).

The installation, probably constructed prior to [REDACTED] was covered on [REDACTED] KEYHOLE missions between [REDACTED]

Comparative analysis reveals that the training area and probably the barracks area were constructed prior to [REDACTED]. There has been no significant change in facilities, light to medium activity at the barracks area, and no activity to light activity at the training area except during [REDACTED] when the range and driver-training course were moderately active.
